NCHSE Winter 2021 Newsletter

The National Consortium for Health Science Education, a non-profit education organization, represents state education agency leaders responsible for middle school, secondary, and postsecondary career technical education (CTE) health science programs. Established in 1991, NCHSE supports visionary leadership, promotes best practices, and speaks with one voice to promote career success for the next generation of health professionals. Through partnerships with publishers and resource providers, professional associations, certification providers and the Health Science Educators Association (HSEA), NCHSE is positioned as the national authority for health science education.

ACTE CareerTech VISION 2021 - A Premier Gathering of CTE Professionals

The Association for Career and Technical Education (ACTE) hosted a successful hybrid conference with online and live on-site programming in New Orleans, Louisiana, December 1-4 at CareerTech VISION 2021. The event was attended by CTE educators, industry representatives and business leaders. Nancy Allen, NCHSE Executive Director and Lara Morris, NCHSE Board Chair participated as workshop presenters, provided greetings at the health science opening session hosted by HOSA-Future Health Professionals, collaborated with current partners and met potential new supporters of health science education. ACTE and NCHSE - a common bond for better education, better health science!
