NCHSE Summer 2022 Newsletter

The National Consortium for Health Science Education, a non-profit education organization, represents state education agency leaders responsible for middle school, secondary, and postsecondary career technical education (CTE) health science programs. Established in 1991, NCHSE supports visionary leadership, promotes best practices, and speaks with one voice to promote career success for the next generation of health professionals. Through partnerships with publishers and resource providers, professional associations, certification providers and the Health Science Educators Association (HSEA), NCHSE is positioned as the national authority for health science education.

National Health Science Standards and Certificate Program Review Update

- Early May: National Health Science Standards Nationwide Review completed.
- May and June: Virtual committee meetings to summarize the data and incorporate input for the revision.
- Reviewers from 21 states and 38 healthcare disciplines were represented along with secondary and postsecondary educators.
- An overwhelming endorsement percentage of 98.59% will result in a light refresh of standards.
- June 13-16, committee members, Nancy Allen, NCHSE Executive Director, Angel Clark, SC Health Science State Leader, Cindy LeCoq, NCHSE Certificate Program Manager, Toni McLemore, Health Science Educators Association (HSEA) President, and Lara Morris, OK Health Science State Leader met at the YouScience Headquarters, American Fork, Utah with Edson Barton, YouScience CEO, Robbie Rauzi, YouScience Director of Employee Enablement and Jody Smith, Director of Exam Development.
